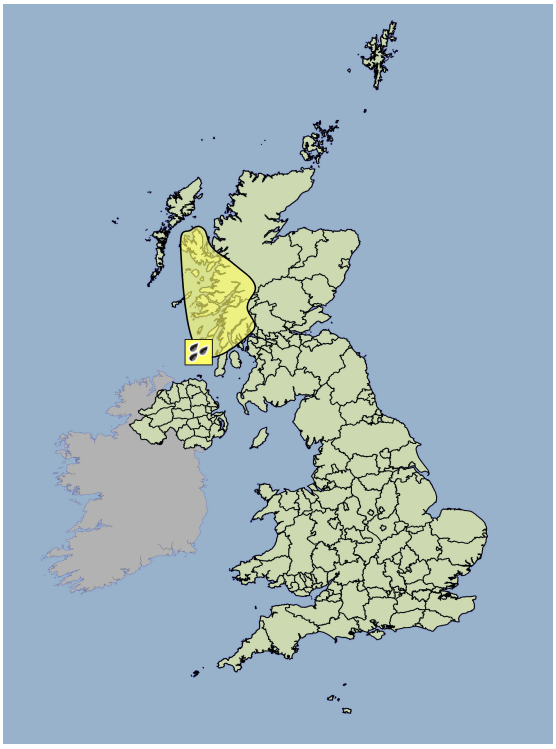
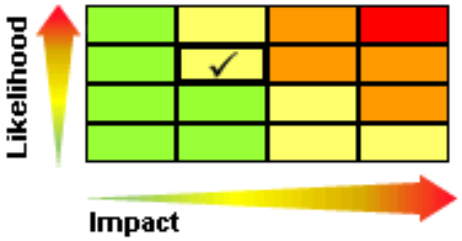
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
An active frontal system will become slow moving over western parts of Scotland with pulses of heavy rain affecting the region.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 15:00 on Sat, 17th May 2014 until 15:00 on Sun, 18th May 2014

Rain will become heavy and persistent at times during Saturday afternoon across Argyll, Bute, Skye and Lochaber and will continue through into Sunday before turning more showery in the afternoon. Rainfall totals of 20 to 40 mm can be expected with locally 60 mm over the hills.

This could give local surface flooding and difficult driving conditions. The public are advised to take extra care.
